Kansas Adoption Laws for Birth Parent Expenses

According to adoption laws in Kansas, reasonable living expenses may be paid for the expectant mother to help offset the financial pressures of pregnancy.

The adoptive parents are financially responsible for:

- Medical expenses of the birth mother and child in relation to prenatal care, pregnancy and birth
- Reasonable living expenses for the birth mother to support her during the pregnancy, which may include help with rent, bills, groceries and more
- The birth parent(s)' attorney fees

Expenses paid by the adoptive parents to the birth parent(s) are determined on a case-by-case basis, and those requested expenses must be deemed reasonable by a Kansas judge. Some expectant mothers will have greater financial need than others, so it's reasonable that their necessary living expenses may be greater.

REFUNDED IF ADOPTION FAILS:

Funds are due within 48 hours of being selected by the expectant mother. Under NO circumstances should you submit your profile or request to be considered UNLESS you have the ability to immediate access to the liquid funding necessary to pay the upfront fees listed above. Please be realistic in regards to your ability to pay the total estimated cost of the adoption by the time the expectant mother delivers her child. If you do not have the total amount required for this adoption available, AFMC recommends that you get PRE-APPROVED for an adoption loan BEFORE you submit for this or any other situation that exceeds your current budget to make sure the adoption will not fall through due to an inability to pay.
