

Neil & Ann

Greetings!

We are a compassionate, fun-loving couple who adore children. We have a supportive family and value the time we spend together with them. Our hearts and minds are open to love and receive a child into our lives and home. Our family is excited about our future blessing and we are already making the necessary preparations. We thank and love you in advance for choosing us and blessing us to be parents.

About Ann

I describe myself as funny, giving, sensitive, reliable, loyal, and a combination of an introvert/extrovert. I love to travel, adore HOT weather and laying on the beach soaking up the sun when I am able to do so. I am very family-oriented and have a great relationship with my parents.

Strong Marriages & Unconditional Love!

We prioritize togetherness, ask each other for help, enjoy doing things together and spend most of our free time together. We are excited to embrace a child with our unconditional love into our family!

Our Promise To You...

Dear Birth Mother

We wholeheartedly appreciate and respect your courage, strength and sacrifice in the difficult decision to offer your child for adoption. Honestly, as a woman, I never thought that I would have any issues having children of my own. In fact, I helped raise all of my nephews and niece, and my husband practically raised his one and only nephew. When we got married, we immediately started to try to get pregnant and when we experienced fertility issues, it was a big surprise and heartbreaking for both of us after having multiple treatments. However, in addition to wanting to birth children, we both always wanted to adopt also. So we consider the opportunity to adopt as a humble blessing and a huge responsibility. We love you already for trusting us as adoptive parents, and we are confident that you will be exceedingly blessed beyond measure for making such a self-less sacrifice. We thank you from the depths of our souls and you are already in our thoughtful prayers.

In Closing...

If your interested in getting to know us a little more? We'd be happy to chat over the phone, email or text and if you desire, we can travel to meet you in person wherever you are. We're an open book. We really want to make sure this is not a pressured decision for you, and we will support your journey from near or afar.

Whether you decide to contact us or not, thank you for reading our story.
