

Sara & Logan Family Profile

About Us

We live in Northeastern Wisconsin in an urban area with a diverse population and surrounded by beautiful outdoor parks and activities. We enjoy trying new restaurants and activities. We've recently discovered a local park with a waterfall that will be a blast to explore! Our 6-year-old daughter (R) has a love for animals, so we make regular visits to our local zoo so we can feed animals, learn about new animals, and try out the ever-changing playground equipment. We were lucky enough to get tickets to a special breakfast at the zoo where we got to meet the penguins up close and personal! As a family, we really enjoy spending time together whether it's watching movies, playing board games, or just spending time in our own backyard.

About Logan

Logan grew up in a small town in South-central Wisconsin. Though Logan is an only child, his extended family was very close and he was able to spend much of his time with his cousins, grandparents, and aunts/uncles. Logan has a love for science fiction, fantasy, and gaming. He is also an avid reader. Logan loves to share his love of books with R and enjoys being able to share in her interests. Recently they've started reading the book series The Last Kids on Earth together and share a love for the Avatar cartoon. Logan is always ready and willing to play games, build Legos, or have a water fight in the backyard.

Logan studied Geology in college and currently works in the Quality Control department of a regional concrete company making sure that products meet customer needs and measuring product available in the company's quarries.

About Sara

Sara grew up in a small town in Northern Wisconsin with 4 siblings (2 brothers and 2 sisters). Sara and her family spent most summer weekends camping around the state and winters were spent finding the perfect sledding hill and ice fishing on frozen lakes. Sara developed a love for the outdoors as a result of these childhood activities. Sara loves gardening, reading, and needlework. Sara loves spending time outdoors with R and learning about the plants and animals they encounter.

Sara studied microbiology and chemistry in college and currently works for a state agency that protects statewide drinking water supplies from contamination.

Our Neighborhood

We live in a quiet neighborhood with plenty of walking and biking trails along the rivers and lakes. The elementary school and daycare that R attends are both only blocks from our home. We have several parks within walking distance of our home and a small nature preserve right across from our home.

Our Extended Family

Our extended families are excited to join us in our adoption journey. Sara's parents are retired and visit as frequently as they are able. Though Sara's siblings live on the western side of Wisconsin, they all make a point to get together several times a year and keep in contact through calls, texts, and social media. Logan's parents are still working, but make an effort to travel for visits as much as they can. Sara, Logan, and R make trips to visit them too.

Pictures of our family

R showing off her smile

R (right) and her cousin A (left) at an Adopt a Sturgeon (fish) event.

R and Sara meeting a Penguin

Sara holding an adult sturgeon.

Logan posing with R's new swingset

R and Papa reading together

R and Logan welcoming Agnes, the new kitten.