

Denton & Amy

Christian Family

Educators

Coach - Denton

Open Adoption

Animal Lovers

We are a transracial family built by adoption. We love spending time with family and friends, especially having cookouts and swim parties in our pool. On the weekends you can find us watching college sports-any and all sports-playing outside, going on adventures, and creating memories. We are a dedicated family who strives to maintain open relationships with our sons' biological families.

We love going on adventures!

We love trying new things!

We love being with family-A LOT of family!

Choosing life matters. It mattered for our sons, and it matters for you. We are hoping to connect with an expectant mother or a biological mother who is considering placing a child for adoption because we know that every soul's future is important, valuable, and deserving of a fulfilled life.

.

We chose adoption because we know we have the family and community support, the desire, and the means to provide a safe, loving, and meaningful future for children. We took a vow before God and an oath before two judges to love our children unconditionally, whole-heartedly, and as the hands and feet of Jesus, and we are praying for you, having to make the bravest and most selfless decision of your lives.

.

We can make a promise that we will give our last breath, our very last breath, to protect our children's lives. We will sacrifice to put their needs and dreams first; we will provide a strong education for them and work hard to make sure they gain the skills and life experiences to become the people who God has called them to be.

We will teach them about the saving grace of Christ, but most importantly, we will teach them to love like Jesus, to offer grace and compassion and understanding and empathy, to love first-always.

.

We will teach them to love a person for who he or she is, to embrace their differences, to celebrate their cultures, and to claim their wonderful uniqueness.

.

As we are a proud transracial family with an amazing, strong and beautiful black son and an amazing, strong and beautiful white son, we know their life experiences will vary, but we also know that their connection as siblings and their relationship with each other are going to change the worldview of many.

Thank you for choosing life.

