HOPING TO ADOPT AGAIN

♥ Loving 🏠 Financially Stable ✈️ Travelers

Dear Momma!

Thank you for taking the time to read about us!

We are so grateful and excited to grow our family again through adoption. We believe in God's perfect timing, and He answered our prayers to be parents through the adoption of our son, who is now two years old. Our little boy is a kind, playful soul who would make an amazing big brother.

Adoption isn't easy, but it is how we were finally able to become first-time parents. We are forever grateful to his birth mom and maintain an open adoption with her. We have a loving, encouraging home where children can grow, play and be loved unconditionally.

Whatever you decide — open, semi-open or closed adoption — we'll honor it.

About

US

Scott grew up on a farm in Illinois and Gene is Puerto Rican, speaks Spanish and grew up on Army bases across the country.

Our little family of three loves to spend lots of time together. Our favorite time of the day is in the evenings. We have dance parties while Gene cooks. We enjoy eating dinner together, playing and bath time with our son, reading bedtime stories and watching movies as a family. On weekends, we go to local festivals, travel, visit new places and experience new adventures all as a family.

We have holiday traditions like wearing matching jammies at Christmas and gathering with family for Thanksgiving. We've even made new family traditions like watching Christmas movies as a family on Christmas Eve while enjoying hot chocolate and homemade cookies as we anticipate a visit from Santa Claus.

About

OUR FAMILY

Scott's parents live in Florida. Gene's mother and 101-year-old grandmother live in Georgia. We both have siblings and lots of nieces and nephews. Despite the distance, we see our families often and video chat or talk regularly. Both sides of the family love our son and want to see our family grow again through adoption.

Scott's parents are active in the lives of their grandchildren and are excited to share their passion for family projects and look forward to cheering their new grandchildren on at all sporting events, dance competitions or music recitals.

Gene's mother crochets and her grandmother sews. They both enjoy making sweaters and clothes for all the kids in the family. We are so blessed to see our son spend time with his great-granny. She loves him!

About

SCOTT

In Gene's Words

On our first date, the thing that attracted me to Scott the most was his soft-spoken nature and attentive listening. He really wanted to get to know me. He leaned in, looked me in the face with his bright blue eyes, asked insightful questions and really listened to what I had to say. That is exactly who he is – attentive, patient, thoughtful and loving. It's how he is as a dad.

Scott loves kids and he has been a basketball coach for several high school teams. While he recently stopped coaching to spend time with our family, many of his former players are still his friends. He truly leaves a lasting positive impact on the students and fellow coaches.

We both love to travel and he is always planning our getaways and family outings. Wherever we go, he makes it a point to attend a sporting event. While he likes watching games in person and on TV, he loves working out and playing golf. Scott is active and fit. He is an amazing, caring, encouraging dad who shares his love of travel, sports and reading with our son. He's always wanted a big family and would love another child or more children.

About

GENE

In Scott's Words

When I first met Gene, she made me laugh and she hasn't stopped since. At least once a day, she says or does something so funny that it reminds me all over again why I fell in love with her.

Gene loves to cook, garden, read, learn and laugh — and she wants the same for our son. She makes dinner time fun and lively in our home by turning on music, singing and dancing as she cooks. Our son loves the dance party! Gene painted a big bookshelf, filled it with more than a hundred children's books and created an amazing library for our son. She reads to him every day. She wants him to experience new things and learn everywhere we go, whether it's a trip to our local zoo, the town farmers' market or the playground.

Gene is outgoing and caring. I love the way she includes everyone in conversations by sharing stories and asking others to do the same. She is an amazing mom. She is fun, spontaneous and fills our home with music, laughter, dancing and playfulness. She can't wait to welcome another baby or babies.

Ours Home

We built our dream home in a lovely, kid-friendly Indiana neighborhood with walking and biking trails, swimming pools and playgrounds. It's the perfect place to take adventurous walks, fun bike rides, explore the woods and creek and spend long summer days splashing and swimming in the pools. We do all of that!

Our home has three bedrooms and a wooded back yard where we see wildlife — eagles, hawks, songbirds and rabbits. We live in one of Indiana's best school districts and the children in our neighborhood walk or ride their bikes to the nearby elementary school.

We have plenty of room to play, grow and have fun.

Our Favorites

We love going on adventures and trying new things like snowmobiling in Wyoming during one of our vacations. We try to catch a live sporting event in every city we visit and love to see our home town teams play. Live music is our jam! We love all kinds of music from hip hop to country to pop. We go to several concerts a year — our favorite venues are outdoors in the summer. Family time is spent at local festivals, markets, gatherings, parades and play dates.

Our Promise

We are a family that loves fiercely. We promise to love your baby unconditionally, nurture and protect them and provide a caring, accepting home for them to call their own. We will provide them with a great education and we vow to support them as they make their dreams come true. We will share with them our love of travel, adventure and fun. We will fill our home with laughter, music, family, friends and most importantly lots and lots of love. We would love to include you in our lives through photos and visits. Thank you for taking the time to learn more about us.

*with love,
Scott & Gene*
