

Lindsey

(And a bunch of animals and friends and family)

Hi! I'm Lindsey

This must be a lot for you. I think that it's really great that you're here and trying to find out what's best for you and your baby. There are so many hopeful parents on here. I'm honestly just super excited that you made it to my profile.

I've wanted to build a family through adoption since I was a little girl. I also know how important timing is when it comes to being a parent. I've created a bunch of hit TV shows and lived in the tiniest apartment in the biggest city. I've fallen in and out of love and traveled all over this country and way beyond. I've literally climbed to the peak of the world's tallest mountains.

Now, I'm 40 years old, and I want to become a parent. I live in a big old, renovated farmhouse in the mountains of upstate NY. It's filled with a diverse group of friends and my family (and animals) all the time. There's always a warm fire in the fireplace, someone cooking something in the kitchen, and loud laughter coming from who knows where.

All this to say, I've built the warmest, most stable environment to raise a child in, and I am really looking forward to becoming a parent.

♥ Lindsey

this home becomes a winter wonderland for 3 months every year the top floor of the house, has my favorite spot, the library & game room

this sign greets everyone as they enter the house through the mud room

MY HOME

This property is named "Paradise" and it lives up to its name in every way. A long driveway goes over a bridge to cross over the lazy river that wraps around the property. The house is large, but every nook is filled with a comfy place to play a game or read a book. The 5 bedrooms are almost always full, kids running around, and babies taking their first steps. Dogs are eating dropped food from breakfast, and the smell of fresh laundry from the dryer is wafting throughout the halls. At night, friends & family come over, and we cook a big family dinner, put any kids to sleep, and play cards or pool. I renovated this home with my future child in mind. They already have an awesome bedroom waiting for them. I'm so excited to raise a child in Paradise

Home Sweet Home

i bought a drone to get this pic. seconds after taking the pic, i crashed the drone #worthit

Our Private Lazy River

I filled this huge wall with mementos and photos of family & friends.

Moishe loves sunngling by the fireplace while everyone plays pool after dinner the dining table fits 16 people and i love when its full

Filming the Property Brothers was NEVER dull

We never stopped laughing while making Fixer Upper

Creating Home Town, was one of the most rewarding experiences of my career

MY LIFE NOW

I spent 18 years living in Manhattan, working as a Television Executive. I created a bunch of hit television series about people buying homes and building lives in unique places. At 38 years old, I decided to do just that. I sold my fancy NYC apartment and bought and renovated a big old farmhouse on 29 acres, an hour and a half from the city, in the Catskill Mountains. A whole group of my friends moved close by, and I made a bunch of new friends up here as well. I still make TV shows about home renovations and real estate, but now I own the company that makes them, so I'm not required to work the same hectic schedule I had in the past. I spent my time now with my friends & family, doing what we enjoy.

My life is still very connected to NYC. I go for a week every month, and stay with my best friend, Ashley. She and her family usually come stay with me on weekends. I'm really excited to raise my child to know and love NYC as a "second home". In a year or two, I plan to rent a place in NYC so me and my child can drive down and visit often. We'll eat all the great food, see shows and concerts, take classes and most importantly, connect with a diverse group of kids and adults.

I love traveling all around the world. I try to immerse myself in a culture when I travel, so I tend to make friends in different countries.

I am really looking forward to traveling with my child, seeing the world through their eyes.

Ash, David & Peaches are my home in NYC

Climbing Kilimanjaro was when i fell in love with Africa. I cant wait to return.

One month in Peru with my friend Lauren.

skiing and swimming only minutes from my house with friends!

Kinda obsessed with my Niece, August

My Big Brother Craig, and his wife Hillary, August and Mr Giraffe

MY FAMILY

I have the best family.

My brother, Craig and I are really close. We used to live in Manhattan, walking distance from each other. For work, he and his wife moved to Texas a few years ago, but we talk daily and visit each other four times a year. I facetime with his daughter August, every night before she goes to sleep, and make sure that she knows that Auntie Lindsey loves her. We're trying to figure out how to return Craig, Hillary and August to NY for good soon.

My dad, Bob was the best man I have ever known. Unfortunately, we lost him to a rare cancer 10 years ago, but it showed me what an amazing family and support system I have. I'm really lucky to have had 30 amazing years with my dad.

My mother, Renee lives here with me for half of the year. Everyone who meets her loves her. She is the kindest, most generous, chill and funny woman. She is an incredible grandmother. My niece, August, is almost two now; her favorite word is Grams. My mother has already started buying baby gifts and talking about becoming a grandma again.

My cousins are more like siblings to me. We try to meet up for monthly family dinners at a restaurant that we've been going to since we were kids. All of my cousins kids think my house is like summer camp. They're all already calling dibs for babysitting duty. My family has a big house in Colorado and we all go twice a year. We ski and hike all day, and have big family dinners, and play board games at night. It's so much fun.

Little Sistering since 82'

My Dad would do anything for a laugh. I miss him every day.

My mom gives the best hugs!

MY CHILDHOOD

I grew up in a perfectly small home that was just 15 miles outside of Manhattan.

The address of the house I grew up in is now tattooed on my wrist because even the thought of that home and time of my life, makes me feel safe, cared for, and loved. ✨

My parents were awesome. I have an older brother named Craig, who was and is one of my best friends. We had a cat named Kitty Cat, who followed me home from school every single day.

My dad would come home from work at night and host "The Stupid Olympics." He'd create a new "Stupid" game for my brother and I to compete in. My favorite was catching marshmallows dropped from the second-floor balcony in our mouths.

1988--2023

My house was the place where everyone wanted to hang out and have sleepovers. My mom would make cinnamon rolls for breakfast on the weekends, and we would all eat them and watch cartoons until we hopped on our bikes and rode around the neighborhood. My friends from growing up are still some of my best friends today.

I'm really looking forward to creating a similar feeling in my home with my child.

Moishe, brings his stuffed animal with him to bed every night.

my best friend, Ashley and her daughter, Peaches visit every weekend, and the horses Love apple time with them. Peaches likes to make horse sounds. Its adorable.

Rosie loves running through the fields with me and Moishe every morning

Ilsa & Molly under the christmas tree

Chickening OUT

me & Little

ANIMALS OF THE HOUSE

I HAVE TWO AMAZING DOGS, Moishe and Rosie. Everything about them is lovable. Moishe is a big white dog that thinks he is the protector of the house. He loves children and follows them everywhere when they are at the house. Rosie, is a tiny yorkie who chases butterflies and her own tail. She is most comfortable on someone's lap. They're besties and THEY LOVE TO CUDDLE with people and each other. Most days, you'll find them outside, running through the fields, or swimming in the river with their many dog friends who come visit. I ALSO HAVE THREE ADORABLE CATS, Molly, Ilsa and Little. They stay indoors, and specialize in sleeping, cuddling and posing like the super models that they are. Our neighbors are TWO RETIRED RACE HORSES. I visit them every morning with apples and carrots. Then of course, are my EIGHT CHICKENS, who provide us with eggs and laughter.

MY COMMUNITY

I have a big, awesome, diverse group of friends in my small mountain town. A lot of my friends moved up here in the past few years from NYC, and we've started to grow a really unique community. When I left Manhattan, I made sure to prioritize living in a diverse community and to seek out friends from all different backgrounds, and lifestyles. My friends and I are active members of our community, and members of organizations that support the diverse communities in upstate New York.

I spent my 20's and 30's traveling around this country and the world. Now, I have friends whom I consider family all over the world who visit me often, and I love traveling to visit them.

MY HOLIDAYS & TRADITIONS

Lucy on Thanksgiving

I love any excuse to gather with the people I love and celebrate. I'm not particularly religious, but I was raised Jewish...and we have a Christmas tree. My family still gathers for all the Jewish holidays and has a big loud dinner. Thanksgiving is MASSIVE at my house. We decorate the Christmas tree on Thanksgiving and make ornaments that say what we are thankful for. After the holidays, we keep the tree up, and decorate it for Winter Birthdays. Birthdays are huge in my home. We decorate the whole house, have cake for breakfast and fill the living room with gifts, balloons, and cards from loved ones. My family goes hard on gifts, even when you're a grown-up. It's almost embarrassing, but it's so fun, I hope it never stops.

I host a huge 4th of July party every year. We set up a 100-foot-long slip-n-slide, the BBQ goes all day and night, kids are playing and swimming, dogs running around, and there's music and laughter. It's magical.

I also have small traditions. Every Sunday night, my entire group of friends gathers for "Family Dinner" at one of our houses or a local restaurant. During the summer, we go to a town lobster dinner at the mini-golf course every Saturday night.

Also, on Sunday mornings we say hi to "Mr Tree" & ask him to make sure we have a great new week.

Birthday Tree

Christmas Tree

Peaches knows how to celebrate!

Our next door Neighbor, Ben deep frying Turkeys for Thanksgiving dinner

I've prepared for Motherhood for the past 20 years. I built a career that allows me to stay home and raise a child while providing us with a stable and generous income. I purchased a property and renovated a home specifically made for raising and growing my family. I've read books, taken classes, and decorated the nursery. I'm ready to give my love, my time, and everything I have to a child. I will work tirelessly to make sure to support their dreams and give them a safe and loving home to grow up in.

I'm really looking forward to becoming a mother and growing my family.

That includes you, and your family. I want my child to know, love and respect where and who they came from. I want you to know that will give this baby everything, I will spend every breath, from the day they are born, making sure that they feel safe, loved and cared for. I want you to know that we'll talk about you, and we'll look forward to seeing you, when you're ready. I know that this time in your life must be incredibly scary, and I genuinely hope that you can see my profile and maybe see a beautiful future for your baby and a future full of possibilities for you.

With Love,

Lindsey

