BUILDING OUR FAMILY

OUR HOME

We live in a recently remodeled, four bedroom home located 10 miles outside of town. This allows us to have plenty of space for the kids to play outside and for us to take relaxing walks while still having neighbors close by. We enjoy spending time on our large wrap-around porch while the kids play. As a family, we love to grab lunch after church and head to a local park for some fun in the sun. We have lots of extended family nearby, too, so there is always a family get-together or activity to do.

ABOUT US

After a decade together, we have been through countless uplifting moments and a few tragedies. Through it all, we have striven to stay grounded in our faith and teach strong morals and family values to our children. We maintain a close relationship with our extended family and enjoy traveling, camping, dinners, and parties together as a large group. Adam works in sales, and this has also allowed us to travel as a family on a few occasions. Our girls love to dance and have learned this from Brittany, who teaches at a dance school. We are blessed to have the ability to bring another child into our family through adoption and will provide unconditional love and support to him or her throughout their path in life.

WHAT LED US TO ADOPTION

Adoption has always been a part of our lives. Brittany was blessed to be a part of the adoption process with her four younger siblings, who were adopted by her parents. God has now given us the ability to continue to grow our family through adoption. We have always known we would adopt and we know this is the right time for our family. The passing of Brittany's youngest adopted sister was a defining moment for us because we feel that she has been our guardian angel, leading us down the path of adoption. Adoption is apart of who we are; it's an amazing blessing that has created our family.

Dear Momma,

Thank you for taking time to read this letter. We are grateful to be considered as a potential home for your child. We are excited for the opportunity to grow our family and respect the difficult decision you are considering.

We are a family of 6 with 3 daughters biologically and 1 son whom we were blessed to adopt almost 2 years ago when he was about to turn 3. He is now 4.5 years old. So we are very familiar with the adoption process!

The girls are 8, 5, and 18 months. Our previous adoption journey was the longest process of our lives and many ups and downs came with it. The short story of our long journey is that we started the adoption process and it took two years and 12 birthmother failed matches to get to our son! We also thought that we would adopt a newborn baby, but we accepted God's Path for us and he lead us to the most beautiful child inside and out that we couldn't ever imagine him not in our lives. We got the phone call and 5 days later we were in Indiana picking him up!

We've always known we wanted a bigger family and since it was taking so long to adopt and adopting an almost 3 year old we decided to get pregnant as soon as possible, adopted our son in august and had our daughter the following June and that is how we went from 2 to 4 kids in 11 months.

We have a large extended family that is very diverse and can't wait to add to the beautiful "melting pot" that we have within our family. Our extended family is extremely close and your child would be so loved and cared for. Our kids are so excited to have more siblings, I can't say it enough how helpful and loving the older kids are that I can't wait to see them share their love for more. We truly encourage our children to follow their dreams and that they can be whatever they want. We would do the same for your beautiful baby. We promise to love your baby endlessly.

Adoption has always been a part of our lives. I (Brittany) was blessed to be a part of the adoption process with her five younger siblings, 4 of my adopted siblings came from Texas. And my other sibling was adopted out of foster care. Just recently at the age of 9.

The passing of My youngest adopted sister was a defining moment for us; we have felt that she has been our guardian Angel and guiding us down the path of adoption once more. I want you to know that we would respect all your wishes, we kept our son's name, we communicate openly with his birth mom and love her dearly, we would love to have you always be babys other mama too.

I wish you the best! And if this is Gods will I would love to talk with you more. There's so much I would love to touch on... My sons Birthmother and how we have an open adoption and I talk to her a couple times a week, how loved your child would be, how amazing we think you are for making this decision.....So much to say! But for now I will pray that God crosses our path again!

God bless

Our Families & TRADITIONS

Brittany is one of eight children, with three biological siblings and four adopted siblings. Her extended family is large and very diverse, with two cousins and one aunt originating in different cultures than our own, all through the blessing of adoption. We are very close-knit and get together on a weekly basis. Adam is the youngest of four children. He comes from a very hard-working family, with two older brothers and one older sister.

Our favorite thing to do is to head out to high school sports that Brittany's siblings are apart of. We also love to eat: on a weekly basis, all 21 of us go out for pizza and catch up on each other's week! As a family, we enjoy outdoor activities and traveling to Wyoming to see the beautiful sites. We also love to take trips to Disney as a family and see our kids and their cousins' eyes light up as they watch the castle fireworks!

Both of our families are extremely supportive of our adoption journey and very excited to welcome a new family member! Your baby will be loved by all.

We would love to talk with you more.

God bless,
Brittany and Adam
