I am deeply honored that you are considering me as a potential parent. My journey has brought me from the vibrant landscapes of Africa, where I was raised in a blend of city and country life, to the sunny shores of Southern California, which I now proudly call home. We're blessed with an abundance of scenic parks, serene beaches, and exhilarating hiking trails. I cherish my walks with my dog, exploring the diverse landscapes our region offers.

My Story

Why Adoption...

Unfortunately, biological motherhood has not been a part of my story. While this was a challenging realization, it has led me to a profound understanding and acceptance of my path. My journey has opened my heart to adoption, a beautiful and loving way to fulfill my dream of becoming a mother.

Adoption is not new to my family. The experience of welcoming an adopted nephew into our family has only strengthened my belief in the power and beauty of adoptive families. Witnessing the joy and love he has brought into our lives has been incredibly inspiring.

Choosing adoption is, for me, a celebration of love and family in all its forms. It represents a commitment to providing a child with a nurturing, stable, and joyous environment. I am excited about the journey ahead and the opportunity to share my life, my home, and all the love I have to give with a child.

I am deeply respectful and admiring of your courage and love in considering adoption for your child. Please know that if you choose me as an adoptive mother, I am committed to providing a loving and supportive home, filled with laughter, learning, and endless opportunities for growth.

Ziggy

My life is also graced by a Scottish terrier, my faithful companion for six years. He's playful, intelligent, and brings endless joy into my life. We share a love for the outdoors, and when I'm not on a day hike or indulging in my passion for travel, I enjoy unwinding with a good movie, be it a comedy, drama, or romantic comedy.

Why Choose Me

As you consider this significant and loving decision, I want to share with you why I believe I would be a wonderful choice as a single mom for your child.

Unwavering Commitment and Love:

As a single mom, my focus and dedication will be solely on your child. I am ready to provide unconditional love, support, and attention, ensuring that your child grows up in a nurturing and stable environment. My career in healthcare has given me the ability to care deeply and compassionately, qualities I am eager to extend to motherhood.

Strong Support System:

Although I will be a single mom, I am not alone. I am surrounded by a loving and supportive family and a community of friends who share my values and are excited to be a part of your child's life. This strong support system will be instrumental in providing a sense of family, belonging, and diverse role models for your child.

Financial Stability and Flexibility:

My career has provided me with financial stability and flexibility. This will allow me to provide for your child's needs, from education to extracurricular activities, and to be present in their life, whether it's attending school events or just being there for them at home.

Open Adoption Vision:

I am committed to an open adoption, respecting and honoring your role in your child's life. I believe in maintaining a positive and healthy relationship with you, ensuring your child knows their story and the love that surrounds them.

In choosing me, you are not just selecting a single mom; you are choosing a lifetime of love, stability, security, and enrichment for your child. I promise to provide a home filled with laughter, learning, and endless opportunities for growth.

My Home...

Nestled in a beautiful part of Southern California, my home is a warm and inviting two-story house with four bedrooms and a cozy yard. It's a stone's throw away from playgrounds, parks, and top-rated schools – a perfect setting for a child to grow and thrive. My neighborhood is a tapestry of cultures, reflecting the diversity I cherish.

Vacations & Explorations:

Travel is a passion of mine, and I would be thrilled to share this with your child. From exploring new places to visiting family members in different parts of the country, your child will grow up experiencing diverse cultures and landscapes.

Family & Friends

In our family, fun is about experiencing life in all its colors – from the tranquility of nature to the excitement of a soccer match, and from the closeness of family game nights to the thrill of amusement parks. I look forward to sharing these joys and creating new traditions with a child, surrounded by love, laughter, and the warmth of family.

Family is central to my life, and I come from a large, loving family with a wonderful tradition of monthly get-togethers. We rotate hosting duties, enjoying potluck meals, and catching up on each other's lives. These gatherings are filled with laughter and fun, ranging from playing charades and card games to karaoke and lip-sync battles. It's these moments of togetherness that I treasure the most.

For indoor fun, I love visiting attractions with my nephews and godson. Whether it's a day at Universal Studios (I admit, I stick to the less scary rides!), enjoying arcade games, go-kart racing, or jumping around at Skyzone trampoline parks, these experiences are always filled with laughter and joy. We also relish the local culture by attending county fairs, Hollywood Bowl concerts, and various local festivals.

Holidays

Faith plays a significant role in my life; raised in a Christian household, my beliefs have only grown stronger with time. I come from a large, loving family of seven siblings, and we are no strangers to the beauty of adoption, having welcomed an adopted nephew into our fold. Christmas is a time of joy and togetherness for us, a tradition I continue by hosting festive gatherings in my home.

Dear Expectant Mother,

I'd like to share with you from my heart why I have chosen the path of adoption. This decision is a deeply personal and meaningful one for me, rooted in love, hope, and the unwavering desire to share my life with a child.

From a young age, I've always envisioned myself as a mother. I grew up in a large, loving family, and those experiences shaped my understanding and appreciation of the joys and responsibilities of parenting. As I nurtured my career in healthcare and settled into my community in Southern California, the dream of motherhood remained a constant in my heart.

Unfortunately, biological motherhood has not been a part of my story. While this was a challenging realization, it has led me to a profound understanding and acceptance of my path. My journey has opened my heart to adoption, a beautiful and loving way to fulfill my dream of becoming a mother.

Adoption is not new to my family. The experience of welcoming an adopted nephew into our family has only strengthened my belief in the power and beauty of adoptive families. Witnessing the joy and love he has brought into our lives has been incredibly inspiring.

I am deeply respectful and admiring of your courage and love in considering adoption for your child. Please know that if you choose me as an adoptive mother, I am committed to providing a loving and supportive home, filled with laughter, learning, and endless opportunities for growth.

Thank you for considering me in your decision. This journey of adoption is one of hope and love, and I am ready to embark on this path with an open heart and open arms.

With warmth and respect,
Esther
