Our wedding day!

As we got to know each other and spent time with our friends, we soon became teammates both on and off the court. Over three years, our bond deepened, leading to our engagement and marriage in 2021. Since then, we've built a life together that includes purchasing a home and raising our son.

As a couple, we complement each other well. Eric is competitive, nurturing, and optimistic, while Anthony is empathetic, outgoing, and known for his sense of humor. We cherish quality time with our son, enjoying outdoor activities at the park, cooking meals together, and gathering with friends and family. Traveling is also a passion, with trips to California to visit our favorite mouse and exploration of new cities.

At the end of each day, we savor moments spent reading to our son, playing in the backyard with our dogs, and appreciating our time as a family.

We are excited to pursue adoption again because we believe our family has room for more love and laughter. We want to provide a nurturing home for another child and create lasting memories together. We look forward to the adventures ahead and the love that will continue to grow in our lives.

About Eric

Growing up, I spent most of my time outdoors, playing with neighborhood friends and staying active on various sports teams during the weekends.

One of the greatest perks of working in the software development industry is the ability to work from home, which allows me to be present and actively support our son's growth and learning every day.

When I'm not working, I'm usually enjoying our backyard with my little family, soaking up the sun, while trying to avoid a sunburn! Chasing our two dogs and toddler around is my idea of a perfect afternoon.

Every time I looked up at the sky and saw a plane soaring above, I was filled with awe at how such a large machine could fly. This fascination sparked my interest in technology and engineering.

In this ever-changing world, I make it a priority to stay informed about software development and technological advances. This passion has led me to a fulfilling career with a major airline.

Cooking is another passion of mine; I love experimenting with pasta and creating various Italian dishes. Anthony surprised me with an outdoor pizza oven, and I'm still perfecting my skills to master the ideal crust!

Family means everything to me, and I look forward to welcoming another little one to teach and share life experiences with!

About Anthony

As a kid, I was always organizing my toys and imagining different worlds, using my creativity to help them solve problems and create harmony. While I can't pinpoint the exact moment I realized I wanted to make a difference in people's lives, it's clear that this desire started at an early age.

I pursued a degree in social work. Each day, I wake up excited to support individuals and families in need, guiding them toward brighter futures. Seeing the positive impact I can make fills my heart with joy.

My passion for helping others and building connections runs deep. I look forward to sharing my compassion, enthusiasm, and life experiences with another child, envisioning a nurturing home filled with love, adventure, and meaningful life experiences.

Hawaii trip, enjoying the sun!

Outside of work, I'm energetic and always on the move, whether playing in our backyard with our son, working out, or enjoying walks with our two dogs. I also love experimenting with cooking and trying out new recipes, and so far, my culinary experiments have turned out well!

I can't wait to be not just a guide, but a loving dad, sharing my life and values with a child who will bring even more joy and warmth to our family!

About Big Brother Abram

Swinging and having fun at the park!

Our toddler son, Abram, is a bundle of energy, adventure, and laughter. His infectious personality lights up every room, filling it with joy. Whether he's exploring the world around him, flashing his big smile, or cracking us up with his silly antics, he never fails to brighten our day. Incredibly loving and caring, he's always quick to offer hugs and show affection to those around him. His curious spirit and adventurous nature make each day an exciting journey, and we feel so grateful to witness his growth into a compassionate, playful, and fun-loving little person.

Abram plays wonderfully with his cousins and the other kids in our playgroup, and we have no doubt he will be an amazing big brother!

Our Home

In 2024, we moved into a larger home in a friendly, family-oriented neighborhood. After leaving our smaller house in the city, we're now settling into a spacious two-story home with a big backyard in the suburbs, where we envision creating lasting memories. This backyard is perfect for family gatherings, gardening, and outdoor play, making it feel like the heart of our home.

Though we're only about 45 minutes from downtown, we enjoy the convenience of having most of our daily needs nearby, allowing us to support our local businesses and enjoy a more relaxed lifestyle. We love taking family walks around the neighborhood, where we've gotten to know our neighbors and their children. We often chat during evening strolls and enjoy spontaneous playdates.

We're fortunate to live right across from a community water park, which has become a favorite summer spot for us and our son. It's a lively place filled with laughter, and we can't wait to share these special family outings with a future child.

Additionally, our community hosts seasonal events and has a nearby park, providing plenty of opportunities for exploration and fun. We're excited to nurture a loving environment where our family can thrive and create wonderful memories together!

Traditions, Interests & Hobbies

One of our favorite family traditions is making homemade pizzas whenever our relatives visit. It's a fun and interactive experience that invites everyone to get involved, from creating unique recipes to sharing laughter and good times in the kitchen. This cherished tradition brings us all closer together. Another tradition we have is our annual visit to a Disney park. There's a special magic in these visits and reliving the wonder through our son's eyes has been a true blessing.

As a family, we also share a passion for traveling. Thanks to the perks of Eric's job, we take every opportunity to explore new cities. We love raising our son to appreciate different cultures and share meaningful experiences together. In the summers, we love traveling to Chicago, catching a Cubs game, and taking in the sights of Navy Pier! Some of our favorite destinations that we hope to revisit include Orlando, Cancun, and Paris.

Cooking Thanksgiving turkey and hosting the family at our house!

Some of our other hobbies include playing video games during our downtime, attending sporting events in person, enjoying both indoor and sand volleyball, catching a Broadway show, and visiting our local farmers market on Saturday mornings!
