A LITTLE ABOUT US

Our Values

Our faith is very important to us, and we try to live like Jesus by loving others. Family and friends mean so much to us too, and we feel blessed to have lots of relatives and supportive friends nearby. We'd love for your child to grow up surrounded by this same love and support.

Fun Facts

One of our favorite memories as a couple was being chosen to take part in the University of Michigan's First Responder game. We got to help display the American flag at halftime, and it was such a special honor!

Andrew has a fun love for socks — all kinds, with different colors, designs, and logos. It's something he's passed down to our kids! He also enjoys playing video games with our boys and sharing that time together.

Kelly loves everything about culture — from languages and traditional dress to her favorite, street food. She spent 11 years working overseas in Southeast Asia, which gave her so many unique experiences. She also treasures "girl time" with our daughter.

Favorite Thing About My Spouse

Andrew says: I love how Kelly's experiences with so many different people and cultures make her kind, accepting, and able to see the value in everyone.

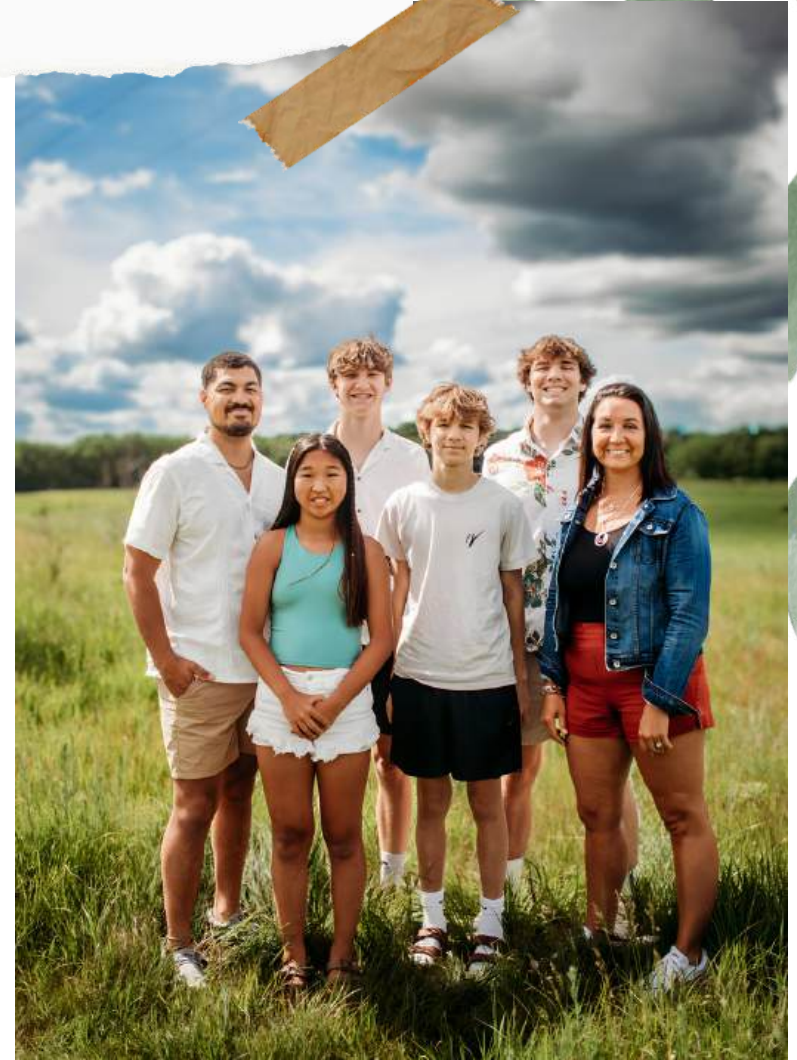

Kelly says: I admire how Andrew is always ready to help others, whether it's mowing a neighbor's lawn or responding to an emergency in the community.

THINGS WE LOVE

WE HOPE TO TALK WITH YOU!

Thank you for considering us as an adoptive family for your baby.

We promise to always honor you as an important part of our family and to answer your child's questions with honesty and love. We will provide a home filled with laughter and built on a foundation of faith in God. If you choose, we're open to sharing letters, photos, and occasional visits so your child can always know their story. We are raising our children as individuals, respecting their goals and dreams, and walking alongside them as they grow through faith, school, sports, family, and friendships. We look forward to giving your child the same love and support.

Thinking of you,
