

ELI & MANDY

Hello! Thank you so much for taking the time to get to know us. We are so thankful that we have the opportunity to complete our family through adoption. You have made such a brave and hard decision to bring this child into the world and we will forever be grateful to you. We will love this child with all our being and we thank you for considering us. I hope through this profile book you get a little idea of what life looks like for our family and we hope it helps you feel the love and joy we hope to share with another child.

We love this photo from our wedding because it truly shows the joy we felt on the day we got married. We have been married 10 years and every year truly gets better. The foundation of our family is the love we have for each other. We are blessed to be each others best friend and love this life we have built with one another.

ABOUT MANDY FROM ELI

Mandy is the most amazing mother, wife, and friend that you can imagine. As a mother she continually amazes me with her kindness, patience, care and love. Our girls adore her and she is always there to love and care for our family. She is a great example to our children through her strong work ethic and consistency. Her unwavering support has created a safe, warm, and loving home for our family.

Fun Facts

- Mandy is a nurse
- Mandy loves to garden and cook

ABOUT ELI FROM MANDY

I have never met someone who didn't love Eli after meeting him. He is an incredible husband and father. He is so much fun to be around and keeps us all laughing. He is a wonderful leader of our family and always puts his family first. He loves to bring our girls on dates and is always making sure they know his love for them is unconditional. Our girls and I all adore him as you can tell in this picture.

Fun Facts

- Eli loves stars wars
- Eli loves fishing and hunting

OUR FAMILY ADVENTURES

We love going to the beach frequently with friends and family. The kids love to go crab hunting at night with Eli.

We love a good reason to get dressed up and Italy was a great reason.

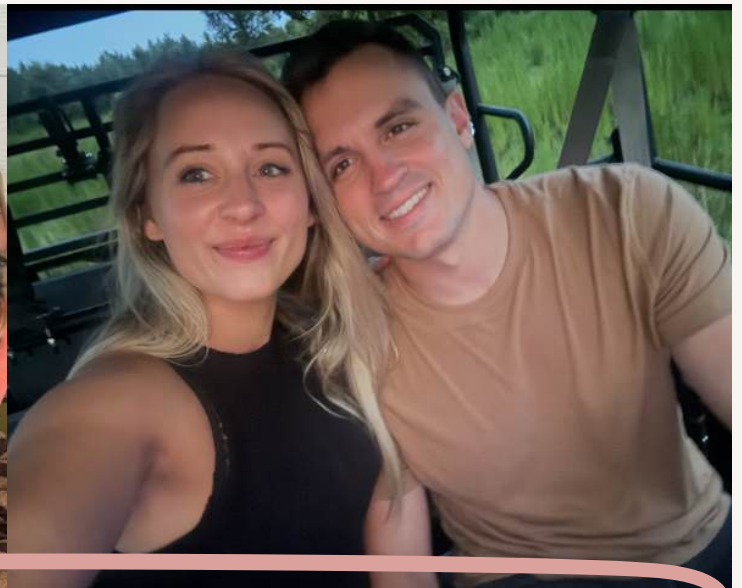

We love going to the aquarium and the zoo.

We love going on nature walks and hikes together.

We built our dream home a little over a year ago and we absolutely love living on our five-acre farm. We love having friends and family over to host dinners and let the kids play together with all our animals. Our kids friends say that “we have the best house ever” and all are welcomed in our home.

We love cuddles with our farm animals. We have rabbits, ducks, chickens, dogs, and cats. We plan to get horses and cows in the future. We also love going on rides in our ATV on our 250-acre family farm that is connected to our property.

One of our favorite animals on our farm is the Mallard duck. The male ducks are exceptionally beautiful. We felt it would be a fitting theme for our nursery. Our girls love to lay in the nursery and admire it and can't wait to be big sisters all over again. When we built our home we built a nursery connected to the Master bedroom, so we would have close access for all baby needs.

We thought the ducks following the mama and daddy duck was a beautiful depiction of how our family will look after adopting and completing our family.

Here is a picture of Mandy's extended family. We are always looking for a reason to get together. Mandy's family always attends every birthday party, sporting event or any open invitation. We are thankful for all their love and support. They can't wait to welcome another child into our family. Two of our cousins are adopted and feel especially excited for our decision to adopt.

Here is a picture of Eli's extended family. They all live close by and we love to get together to swim in Pop and Gigi's pool, cookout for football games, and the grandkids get together every week for play dates with Pop and Gigi. One of Eli's sisters is adopted and his family has a special place in their hearts for adoption. We feel beyond thankful to have so much love and support in our family.

Thank you!

Thank you for taking the time to read our story and considering us. We are honored and grateful to be part of this important decision. If you choose our family, we will give your child a life filled with love, support, and opportunity. Whatever path you choose, we wish you peace and strength.

Love, Mandy and Eli
