

BROCK & RILYN

It's so nice to meet you.

Thank you for taking this deeply personal step and choosing to read our profile. Please know that we enter this process with an unwavering respect for you, your profound love for your baby, and the enormous consideration guiding your decision.

We are excited to share a life balanced between the happy chaos of Pizza Fridays and the cozy, slow-motion comfort of Sunday Mornings. We are committed to providing a future filled with joy, adventure, and a constant, supportive presence.

That is the rhythm of our life—a beautiful balance of connection and constant, supportive love. We honor and respect your journey, and we are continually praying for you and the baby. We hope our story conveys the genuine joy in our hearts.

Love Without Limits

For us, adoption isn't a new idea—it's a reflection of who we are. Having grown up in blended families, we've always known that love isn't confined by blood. We've seen firsthand that family is built on a foundation of commitment, grace, and the intentional choice to show up for one another every day.

Our faith and the beautiful examples of adoption within our own family have shown us that "created families" are a gift. We believe God has a unique story for us, and we are so ready to begin this next chapter. We can't wait to welcome a child into a home filled with warmth, steady grace, and a love that knows no limits.

Our Love Story

Our story began in the buzz of high school hallways—the football player and the dancer. Though we moved in different circles, we found a connection that was instant and unexpected.

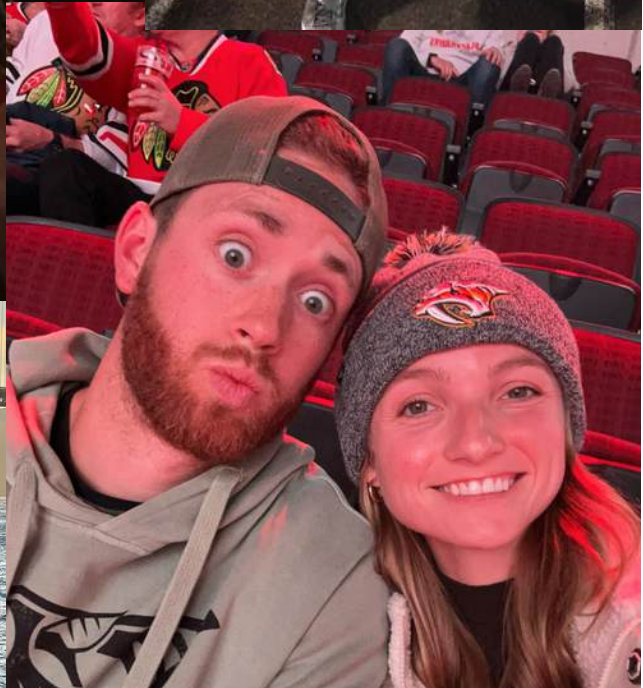

When college took us to different cities, we didn't let the distance slow us down. Those years were filled with long weekend drives and late-night phone calls that turned a high school romance into a lifelong partnership. Coming home after graduation to build a life together was the easiest decision we've ever made.

Today, those "stolen glances" in the hallway have turned into cozy evenings on the porch and a home built on laughter and steady support. We've spent years growing up together, and now we are so ready to grow our family. We can't wait to share this solid, joyful foundation with a child who will be cherished beyond measure.

Forever & Always

Her Story

Nurturing is the very essence of who I am. I was raised in a close-knit, blended family where my mother was my "rock" and my hero. I aspire to be just like her—a mother who leads with strength, compassion, and a lot of heart.

My life is a beautiful balance of grace and grit. With a background in dance, I love staying active through yoga and pilates. And while I'm definitely a "girly girl," growing up with all brothers made me love the wild, competitive side of sports. I've spent years as my brothers' #1 fan on the sidelines, and I can't wait to be that same cheering section for a child.

When I'm not at a game or exploring a farmers market, you can find me baking something sweet or relaxing by the pool with a good book. I'm ready to share this life of adventure and steady love with a little one.

Brock's POV

Rilyn is the heartbeat of our home. She has a rare gift for making everyone feel seen, celebrated, and loved. Whether she's meticulously planning our next adventure or filling our house with warmth and joy, she is the steady foundation of our lives. Watching the intentional way she cares for others makes me proud every day, and I know her love will be the safest place for a child to grow.

His Story

Family is my compass. Growing up as one of seven siblings, I learned that life is best lived surrounded by connection and unconditional love. My faith is my anchor, and it drives me to be a supportive, Christian leader for our future family.

That dedication carries over into my love for sports. Whether I'm coaching on the field or playing in the backyard, I love being a mentor. I'm at my happiest when I'm active—fishing, boating, or coaching my nephews in sports. I'm the uncle who is always ready to jump in the mud for a game of touch football or sit perfectly still while my nieces "style" my hair.

Just as I've spent years cheering Rilyn on at her dance recitals, I'm ready to be the biggest supporter of a child's dreams. I can't wait to share a life that is active, stable, and full of adventure.

Rilyn's POV

Brock is my rock and the steady provider for our family. He is the perfect mix of strength, gentleness, and 'goofball' humor—bringing so much light and laughter into our home every single day. Seeing him lead with kindness and play with our nieces and nephews makes it clear he was destined to be an incredible father. I am so blessed to have him by my side.

A Place to Grow

We live in a family-centered gem of a hometown—the kind of place where neighbors are friends and children play freely. Our spacious home and fenced yard are just minutes away from top-rated schools, providing a solid foundation for a child to learn, grow, and thrive in a safe environment.

But the real magic happens right in our own backyard. With several acres of land to explore, we can't wait to teach a child to ride a bike or go on "nature walks" on our own property.

Staying active is a way of life for us. Whether we are utilizing our membership at the indoor playground five minutes away for year-round fun with cousins, or visiting the local parks, our home is the perfect backdrop for a childhood full of adventure and opportunity.

Our Village

We are surrounded by a vibrant, diverse community spanning generations—from newborns to grandparents. Our family is a beautiful mosaic of blended, mixed, and adopted members, ensuring a child will always see themselves reflected in the people who love them most.

Our life is a joyful, busy rhythm of connection. On the weekends, we cherish weekly Sunday dinners with Rilyn's family and large monthly gatherings with Brock's seven siblings.

Whether we're cooling off in the pool, playing games around the table, or running through the grass, there is never a dull moment. We aren't just a family of two; we are a massive, lifelong cheering section ready to celebrate every milestone. This supportive community is already waiting to offer a lifetime of unconditional love.

Our Promise to You

From the moment a child enters our home, we promise to provide a life overflowing with grace, adventure, and unconditional love. We know that life isn't always easy or filled with rainbows. We know there will be hard days and uphill climbs. But we promise that even in the toughest moments, we will be there to lift them up. We will never give up on them. Our home will be their constant safe harbor—a place of unwavering support and a love that never wavers.

- We promise to raise them in a home where their story is celebrated and their heritage is honored every single day.
- We promise to be their loudest cheerleaders—on the sidelines of a field, by the side of a stage, or just through the challenges of growing up.
- We promise a life of stability and faith, where they are taught to love God and lift others.
- We promise they will always know the courage and the selfless love that brought us together.

Above all, we promise that your child will grow up knowing they are a cherished gift. They will never have to wonder if they are loved; they will feel it in every Sunday dinner, every bedtime prayer, and every hand we hold through the storms.

With All Our Gratitude

Thank you, from the bottom of our hearts, for inviting us into your story and for taking the time to see the life we have built. We hold an immense amount of respect for you and the path you are navigating; please know that we carry you in our thoughts and prayers every day.

We want you to know that our home is ready and our hearts are wide open. We are prepared to cherish, protect, and surround your child with the same unconditional love and stability you've seen throughout these pages. No matter where life takes us, we promise to honor the brave and selfless decision that led us to one another.

With love and hope,
Brock & Rilyn
