

Aubrie & Ethan

Our Story

We will have been married for five years this summer and we've known since day one that we want to be parents. Infertility has been a part of our journey and helped us consider what building a family could look like. We believe adoption is the path meant for our family, and we feel incredibly thankful for that. Our hope is to welcome a child into our home that we can love and support throughout their life.

We have had many experiences loving and caring for children in our home and supporting their families. We believe children thrive when they feel safe, heard, and loved, that will be our goal as parents.

Favorite Things

We love simple joys like quiet nights at home, travel, live music, reading, and even karaoke nights. We laugh often, communicate openly, and enjoy “just being together”.

Our Passion

We are both elementary school teachers with over seven years of experience each. Caring for children has always been at the heart of our lives. Aubrie says that “being with her students is the best part of her day and she can’t wait to come home and share that love with our child.”

Our Home

Our home

Our home is calm, welcoming, and full of routines that will help children feel safe and secure. We live in a small quiet neighborhood with great neighbors.

We are ready to love a child through quality time - walks, parks, small trips, and playing at home. Ethan looks forward to sharing his love of music and reading bedtime stories together.

Aunt & Uncle

We have nieces and nephews ranging from newborn to 15 years old, all excited to love the child we're blessed to welcome into our family. They can't wait to celebrate birthdays together, play at the beach, and spend holidays, especially Christmas, as a family.

Our Friends

Our friends are incredible and have seen us through many seasons of life.

They have celebrated joys with us, supported us through challenges, and consistently modeled love and care.

Many of our friends are parents themselves, and we love sharing game nights, dinners together, backyard cookouts, and quality time with the people who feel like family to us.

Our Family

Family is everything to us. Both of our parents live in our community or very close and love being grandparents. The children we have will be surrounded by people who are invested in them, show up for them, and love them deeply. Our moms, “Gigi “ and “Gaga,” especially look forward to spending quality time with our child - taking them to the park, or teaching them a new hobby.

A note to you

We want you to know that you will always be a mother. You carried and loved this baby and made a deeply selfless decision.

That kind of love deserves to be honored. We promise to love your child fully, to speak of you with kindness and respect, and to give them a home filled with safety, patience, and unconditional love. Whatever you decide, we truly wish you peace and support.

Thank you for taking the time to get to know us! We hope that you can see the love, support, and adventure we are ready to give the child we are given the honor and privilege to be the parents of.
