

Sarah AND Taylor

Hello, we are

Sarah & Taylor

We deeply respect the incredible love, strength, and courage it takes to consider adoption. We know this decision is made from a place of profound selflessness, and we are truly honored that you are taking the time to learn about our family.

As a family-centered couple, we have long dreamed of opening our hearts and home to a child. Our journey has shown us that family is built not only through biology, but through faith, unconditional love, and intentional commitment to one another. If chosen, your child will be welcomed into a home filled with laughter, encouragement, cherished traditions, and unwavering support.

About Us

After reconnecting years after meeting through mutual friends, we realized how much we had grown. Our friendship evolved into a partnership built on trust and shared values. We are grateful for the journey that brought us together and we're excited to grow our family, providing a child with a home filled with love and laughter, and unwavering support.

About Sarah

Sarah is an elementary school teacher with a heart for children, creativity, and connection. She brings warmth, joy, and encouragement wherever she goes, making others feel loved and valued. She enjoys staying active, spending time outdoors, and traveling, but her greatest joy comes from creating meaningful traditions and lasting memories with the people she loves. Her compassionate heart, nurturing spirit, and genuine kindness are just a few of the qualities that will make her an incredible mother.

Taylor's Words

Sarah is truly one of a kind, with strengths that are impossible to miss. She wears her heart on her sleeve and is deeply in tune with the needs of others, always offering comfort and a listening ear. Her love for life, family, and children is boundless. Watching the joy and patience she brings to every child makes it clear what an extraordinary mother she will be.

About Taylor

Taylor has a heart for service and is always looking for ways to invest in others. He serves on local boards and city council, where he mentors and supports initiatives that strengthen his community. By profession, he is a software engineer, but his passion for helping others extends far beyond his career. In his free time, he enjoys photography, hands-on projects, and adventure. Taylor is steady, curious, and deeply committed to building meaningful relationships and making a positive impact.

Sarah's Words

What I love most about Taylor is his ability to connect with people. Despite a difficult childhood, he became a man of compassion, perseverance, and kindness. He truly believes children are God's greatest gifts, and his playful spirit and genuine heart make every child feel loved and valued. I know he will be an incredible father who leads with integrity, loves unconditionally, and reminds our child every day how deeply they are loved.

OUR HOME

We live in a close-knit, family-friendly town where community is part of everyday life. Our home is filled with laughter, shared meals, and time with loved ones. We enjoy local events, outdoor adventures, and serving families through the nonprofit we founded. Surrounded by a diverse and welcoming community, we look forward to raising an adopted child in a home filled with love, belonging, meaningful traditions, and strong community support.

Waiting

With Love

Our nursery is being prepared with love, hope, and excitement for the child who will one day call it home. We dream of filling it with laughter, bedtime stories, and cherished memories. Above all, we hope it will always be a place where our child feels safe, deeply loved, and celebrated for exactly who they are from the very beginning.

OUR TRADITIONS

Family, friends, and community are at the heart of our lives. Sarah's parents are excited to be Lolli and Pop, and Taylor's mom can't wait to be Memaw. Along with aunts, uncles, cousins, and close friends, our child will be surrounded by a village of love, encouragement, and unwavering support. We cherish family traditions like sharing meals, celebrating holidays, and taking beach trips and mountain getaways, and we look forward to creating new memories while providing a home where our child always feels safe, cherished, and deeply loved.

Before You Go!

Thank you for taking the time to learn about us. We know this decision comes from a place of deep love and courage, and we are honored to be considered. If chosen, your child will be surrounded by unconditional love, support, and opportunity. We wish you peace as you make the decision that is best for you and your child.
