Chad and Tiffany

Hello!

We are Chad & Tiffany!
Thank you for taking the time to get to know us!

We know that these pages only share a small part of our story, but we hope they give you a glimpse into our hearts. We are so grateful that you're considering adoption as part of your journey. We can only imagine the strength, love, & courage it takes to make the decisions you're facing.

Our life together is built on faith, family, and love. We enjoy spending time at home, singing in the choir, working on creative projects, gathering with friends and family and traveling. We have traveled thousands of miles- explored all 50 states and made so many memories together. But the greatest journey of our lives isn't on a map. It's the journey that we hope will lead us to becoming parents. We laugh often, love deeply, and find joy in the simple moments that make life so very special.

We dream of growing our family through adoption, with little footsteps, family adventures and a lifetime of memories. Our hearts are open and ready to welcome a child with unconditional love.

We look forward to raising a child surrounded by love, and showing them every day how cherished they are.

With Love and Prayers

Our Story

Why we are adopting

Our faith is a very important part of our lives. As Christians, we believe that every child is a precious gift from God, and we feel incredibly grateful for the opportunity to grow our family through adoption. Through prayer, conversations, and learning about the process, we began to feel that adoption was the direction the Lord was leading us. What started as curiosity slowly became a calling that we felt peaceful and excited about. We believe that God places families together in unique and meaningful ways, and we trust that this journey is part of His plan for our lives. Adoption is not only a way for us to grow our family, but also a way for us to share the love, support, and encouragement that we have been blessed with. We have spent time preparing our hearts and our home for this journey. We have worked hard to walk through the process and to prepare a home that is welcoming, safe, and filled with love. Our hope is to provide a place where a child feels secure, encouraged, and deeply valued for exactly who they are. We have so much love to share, and we look forward to guiding a child through life—celebrating milestones, supporting their dreams, teaching them about faith, kindness, and compassion, and reminding them every day how loved they are. Adoption is a journey we are honored to be on, and we are incredibly thankful for the opportunity to grow our family in this way.

Meet Chad

Hi there! I'm Chad. My faith in the Lord is at the center of my life—it's what gives me the strength and joy to love others well. I really value time with my family, whether we're just relaxing together or sharing a good laugh.

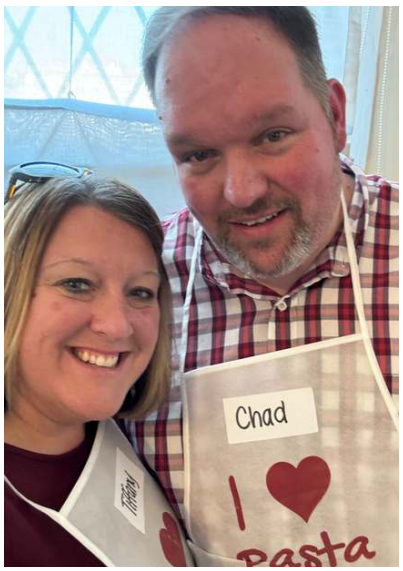

I love singing in the church choir, working on woodworking projects, collecting flashlights, and finding new places to explore with my wife. Traveling, creating, and making memories with the people I love most are some of my greatest joys and I can't wait to one day share all these things with a child.

Meet Tiffany

Hi! I'm Tiffany. I have a big heart for children and a passion for helping them learn and grow. Education is very important to me, and one of my greatest joys is helping children discover a love for learning.

Family means the world to me! I love being actively involved in my nieces' and nephews lives, cheering them on and making memories with them.

In my free time, I enjoy crafting, cooking, trying new recipes and finding creative ways to make others feel special. I also love traveling and making memories. But some of my favorite moments are simply spending time with the ones that I love.

I love God, teaching, singing, and spending time with friends and family. I believe lifes greatest blessing are found in faith, family, love and the little moments that become memories. I look forward to one day sharing all these things with a child of our own.

Our Home

Our home is a quiet, peaceful place filled with love and laughter. It's where we pray together, share meals, gather with family and make everyday moments special. We love opening our doors to friends and family—whether it's for a fun game night, a holiday get-together, or just good conversation around the table. Our home truly feels like a safe and joyful space where everyone is welcome and loved.

Our Neighborhood

We feel so blessed to live in a neighborhood that truly feels like home. Many of our neighbors have been here all of Tiffany's life, and the sense of community runs deep. Everyone looks out for one another, celebrating the good times together and offering support when someone needs a helping hand.

We're close to several beautiful parks where children can play, learn, and grow. We spend a lot of time there—walking, talking, or just enjoying the fresh air—and we already look forward to sharing those favorite spots with a little one someday. This neighborhood is filled with kindness, laughter, and love, and we can't wait to welcome a child into it.

Chad's Side

My parents are the foundation of my faith and the reason I value family as much as I do. They raised me to live with compassion, honesty, and a generous heart. Their faith shines through everything they do, and they've always shown what true love and family look like.

I'm also blessed with three wonderful siblings and their spouses— We're a close-knit bunch who enjoy spending time together, whether it's sharing a meal, singing, or just catching up and laughing. Family gatherings are always full of warmth, stories, and plenty of teasing in good fun!

I know a child will be surrounded by so much love from my family—because that's just who they are, and that's how they've always loved me.

Tiffany's Side

My mom is one of the most faithful and hardworking people I know. Her kindness, strength, and devotion have shaped so much of who my sisters and I are today. I'm blessed with two amazing sisters, their spouses, and four nieces and nephews. We're very close, and time with them is always full of laughter, good conversation, and love. Family means everything to us, and we're thankful to share so many special traditions together like playing croquet and Sunday evening trips to Dairy Queen.

My nieces bring such joy to our family, and my nephews add extra fun and energy to every gathering. Whether we're celebrating birthdays or just spending an afternoon together, there's always love, laughter, and a strong sense of togetherness. Our family can't wait to welcome a little one to share in all that love.

Our Promise

Our hearts and home are ready to welcome a child with open arms and endless love. Faith is at the center of everything we do—it guides how we love, how we serve, and how we care for one another. We promise to raise a child in a home filled with prayer, laughter, grace, and strong family values.

Our families—our parents, our siblings, and the rest of our loved ones—are a big part of our lives. They've taught us what unconditional love and support look like, and we can't wait to share that with a little one.

Whether it's learning a new song, spending time at the park, traveling to new places, or simply gathering around the table for a meal, our home will always be a place of safety, joy, and belonging.

We promise to always honor your child's story and the beautiful way their life began—with you. They will grow up knowing how deeply they are loved, not just by us, but by an entire family and community ready to surround them with care, encouragement, and faith every step of the way.

Thank you

From the bottom of our hearts, thank you for taking the time to get to know us and for considering us as part of your baby's story.

We cannot imagine the weight of the decision you're making and we hold so much respect, admiration-for your courage and love for the decisions before you. whatever decision you choose, we pray you find peace, strength and love along the way. The love you have for your child is evident in every step you take, and we honor that with all our hearts.

If we are blessed to be chosen, we promise to make sure your child grows up knowing how loved they are—by us, by our families, and by you. They will always know their story and understand that it began with a mother's selfless love and courage.

With love and gratitude,

Chad & Tiffany
